FOCUS* special again votes KHS GmbH one of the best employers in Germany

Dortmund, June 29, 2017 – According to a best employers special in Germany's FOCUS magazine KHS GmbH is again one of the most popular machine and systems manufacturers in Germany. The survey names the most attractive employers among medium-sized and large companies in 22 branches of industry. In the machine construction and engineering sector KHS is the best company based in North Rhine-Westphalia. The systems provider also gained an excellent third place among the industry's big corporations. In the overall ranking of all German machine and systems manufacturers, as in the last year the company was in the top five in its class.

Together with its cooperative partners Statista and Kununu, for the fifth time in a row FOCUS has pinpointed those German companies where employees were especially satisfied with their job in 2016. According to the publisher the rating is based on assessments by personnel within and outside the company, among other factors.

Rolf Staab, head of the Central Human Resources Division at KHS, considers the renewed accolade to be proof of a constantly high level of employee satisfaction. "We're continuing to work towards creating the best possible working conditions. The basic tools we apply in this respect include our multidisciplinary trainee programs and extremely extensive range of courses of basic and further training."
